DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 7 currently depends from claim 6; however, claim 6 has been cancelled. For purposes of examination, the Examiner has treated claim 7 to depend from claim 1. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-5, 7-9, 11-17 and 19-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gordon (U.S. Patent No. 4,940,020) in view of Meekins (U.S. Patent No. 4,763,604).
4. For claims 1-5, 7-9, 11-17 and 19-25, Gordon discloses a non-electrical dog training aid (10) adapted for use with a dog collar (12), the training aid comprising: a body (18) including a center having a front side (22) and a back side (24) and having two ends, the ends being provided with elongated, transversely lengthwise extending openings (34) for threading the collar therethrough and along the front side of the body; and three non-electrical posts (20) projecting rearwardly from the back side of said body, one of said posts being located longitudinally between the other two of said posts and offset from a plane extending between said other two posts to establish a triangular orientation between the posts when viewed from behind (as discussed in Col. 2, lines

Art Unit: 3643

45-50); said body (18) is rigid, and said body and posts (20) are formed integrally molded plastic (Col. 2, lines 26-32); said posts (20) are of equal length (as shown in Fig. 4); said posts (20) are provided with rounded free ends (Col. 2, lines 40-43); said body (18) is generally planar, with said front side (22) and said back side (24) parallel to one another (Col. 2, lines 34-37); and said plane extends longitudinally through said center of the body and between said ends such that said other two posts (20) are longitudinally aligned with respect to said body (as shown in Fig. 2 and Col. 2, lines 45-50).

5. Gordon fails to specifically disclose the body includes a narrow center having a front side and back side, and first and second opposing free ends extending longitudinally from said center portion, defining upper and lower lobes extending to above and below the center portion. However, Meekins teaches within the same field of endeavor of collar attached articles a body (Fig. 1: 10) including a longitudinally extending narrow center portion and two ends, wherein the ends have two lobes extending to above and below the center; wherein said lobes are rounded when viewed in a line along a transverse axis through the body. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the body of Gordon to include a bone-shaped body adapted for use with a dog collar as taught by Meekins for providing an aesthetically pleasing shape for accessorizing the dog collar. Further, limitations related to the choice of ornamentation producing no mechanical effect or advantage to the invention, including a mere change in size or shape of a component, is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Meroth (DE 3344699 A1); Foster (U.S. Patent No. 297,777); Christesen (U.S. Patent No. 464,854); Wolfe, Jr. et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,606,967).

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
